The life that I once lived failing to forgive repeating every wrong trapped inside a broken song in the midst of my misery You would dare to die for me

How could You love me like this You sent Your only Son choosing fallen love
how could You love me like this seeing every flaw knowing through it all what it would cost to love me like this

Struggling to breathe gruesome agony Cruel thoughts and stares desperate quiet prayers
We didn't even recognize our Savior as He gave His life

Yeah Love me love me like this love me like this
