

Biography

Allison Gilliam "Christmas Is Love" Feat. Holly Tucker

About Singer Holly Tucker

Holly Tucker, often called the Angel of Texas Country Music, is proving that great things are worth the wait.

Five years after winning the hearts of millions of television viewers on Season 4 of NBC TV's hit music reality show, The Voice, the 25-year-old is leaving her boot print all over Texas Country Music and with fans worldwide.

Holly, whose voice has been described by Blake Shelton as "the most effortless, accurate, and powerful voice", is Texas Country Music Association's reigning Female Vocalist of the Year. In what's being called Holly's breakout year since appearing on The Voice, the Waco native was also named 2017 Vocalist of the Year by the East Texas Music Association, and, Holly's hit single off the 2016 album Steel, "You're in Texas", is 2017's Song of the Year. The video for "You're In Texas" won Video of the Year.

About Writer Allison Gilliam

Allison, independent songwriter, was a finalist in the Texas Country Music Awards show held in Fort Worth, TX at the Will Rogers Auditorium this October 15. She has recently written a country song about her hometown, Valley Mills, TX, called "Like Goin' Home," featured on Troubadour Country Radio.