Leanne Leslie "To Worship You"

WRITERS: Eric Copeland

Lord I reach for you
I'm here in your presence
Standing here accused
Waiting for my sentence
Every breath I breathe
I'm another moment closer
To feeling sweet relief
So I lift my hands to touch you

And I've come into this place
To worship you
To call your holy name
And lose my guilt and shame
And I'm standing in your grace
A creation made new
Let everything I do
Lead me to worship you

It seems I'm always here
Needing just a minute
To gather up my life
And all the pain that's in it
I cry to you oh Lord
To heal these wounds and flaws
I close my eyes and sing
With all that I can offer

Cause I've come into this place
To worship you
To call your holy name

And lose my guilt and shame
And I'm standing in your grace
A creation made new
Let everything I do
Lead me to worship you

I've come into this place
To worship you
To call your holy name
And lose my guilt and shame
And I'm standing in your grace
A creation made new
Let everything I do
Lead me, Lead me
To this place
To worship you
To call your holy name
And lose my guilt and shame
And I'm standing in your grace
A creation made new
Let everything I do
Lead me to worship you
Let everything I do
Lead me to worship you
