

Lyrics

Ron Walker "You Are"

WRITER: Ron Walker | LICENSING: © 2018 Ron Walker Publishing (ASCAP)

Verse 1

I sit alone in a lonely room
Staring at my walls
I'm still alive, but like an empty tomb
Just an echo to my calls

Pre-Chorus

Then the Son came down
Rested on my window sill
Then suddenly Your world outside came rushing,
Rushing to my own
Capturing my soul

Chorus

God, You are worthy
God, You are higher
God, You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are

Verse 2

I've been down before
But never quite like this
Not so sure I haven't lost my mind
Still everywhere there seems to be despair
Can't help lose the little hope I find

Pre-Chorus

Then the Son came down
Rested on my window sill
And suddenly Your world outside came rushing,
Rushing to my own
Capturing my soul

Chorus

God, You are worthy
God, You are higher
God, You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are

Pre-Chorus

Then the Son came down
Pressed upon my window sill
Suddenly Your world outside came rushing in,
Rushing to my own
Capturing my soul

Chorus

God, You are worthy
God, You are higher
God, You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are

God, You are higher
God, You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are beautiful
You are
You are

