Hear the people crying longing for peace
Endless strife war in our streets
Hearts are so divided
Eyes that can't see
Is there hope for humanity?

Yes there's a place where sorrow and heartache won't exist
Mankind will stand hand and hand
Every race and creed will praise Him every tongue from every nation
As one we'll all worship His name

People of every color loving one another tell me
What would heaven look like?
Bigotry and hate are absent only love and peace are present tell me
What would heaven feel like?

I know it might feel like this trouble will stay but this world will soon fade away
Must we wait for eternity to love without fear?
Time's right now healing is here
Let's all unite and put every difference aside
God can dry all the tear stained eyes

Cause this life but a vapor and our God is so much greater
His joy brings an end to the fight

Heaven knows no boundaries equality for you and me
Praising God in harmony
Together in one accord sons and daughters of the Lord
Open your heart and believe
One day we will see
